Mayimba (WELCOME) TO ROCKHAMPTON, QUEENSLAND

Mayimbagu Darumbal Nunthi – Welcome to Darumbal Country. Darumbal is the name of the Aboriginal people who have lived in and call this part of Central Queensland Yaamba (home), for thousands of years. We come from thousands of generations of strong, proud people. A physical, spiritual and emotional relationship has existed between our country and ourselves from time immemorial. Today, we Darumbal people continue to practice our ancient culture and speak our language, which we now happily share with all others who also call this area Yaamba. Darumbal people are proud that they, and other Indigenous people, have worked hard in all different industries alongside non-Indigenous people to help make this place what it is today.

Yadaba wiyi binbigu yinhami narni gunhami wu mundarragu ngalliranga dabu nguga binbi narragu yirragu muli galagan. Please respect and be good to this country that gives life to us all, enjoy yourselves, and stay safe.

FISHING THE FITZROY (TUNUBA)

Image: Fishing near the Rockhampton CBD

HOME OF THE BARRA

The Fitzroy River (Tunuba) is famous for barramundi, pronounced “bardda moon di” by the Darumbal people, defining the Fitzroy River catchment as the genuine home of the barramundi in Australia.

As the largest river catchment on the Eastern seaboard of Australia, the Fitzroy River (Tunuba) provides prime estuary, freshwater and marine fishing options with barramundi, king threadfin and giant trevally being the favourites.

Rockhampton is the only city in Australia where you can fly in, check in and boat out in less than an hour. No matter how you want to fish or what you want to catch, the Rockhampton region is ready to welcome you.

FISH LIKE A LOCAL

WHEN TO COME

If you're heading to Rockhampton to target trophy barra, it's best to visit in barramundi season. Starting at 12.01am on 1 February each year, barramundi season stretches right through to midnight on 31 October and allows you to target barramundi and take home your catch.

King threadfin salmon can also be found aplenty and can be targeted all year round.

WHERE TO FISH

Accessing the water is easy, whether you have a boat, a charter or just a fishing rod and a dream! We have put together a full list of boat ramps and accessible land-based fishing platforms across Rockhampton, Mount Morgan No. 7 Dam and Port Alma.

FUN FACTS

// Freshwater barramundi have a darker upper body, golden under-body and a thick tail.

// When found in freshwater, particularly in land-locked billabongs or lagoons, barramundi will have large fat deposits.

// Saltwater barramundi have a blue or green-grey colour on their upper body, silver on the lower body and usually have very little internal fatty tissue.

// King threadfin can grow up to 140cm in length and can live for up to 10 years.

KNOW THE RIVER RULES

VOLUNTARY CODE OF PRACTICE

The Rockhampton Recreational Fishing Voluntary Code of Practice (VCOP) is designed to encourage local and visiting recreational fishers to adopt sustainable and responsible fishing practices while fishing in Rockhampton's Net Free Zone.

The code sets out four values:

1. Maintaining healthy fish stocks through sustainable harvest behaviours. We do this by limiting the take of barramundi and king threadfin to a maximum of two of each species per trip.
2. Proper care and handling of all fish being released to maximise survival rates.
3. Zero tolerance for illegal fishing activities.
4. Care and respect for the environments where fish live.

These sustainable fishing behaviours ensure our region's fish will continue to thrive, creating a playground that visitors can return to time and again.

SIZE MATTERS

The Department of Agriculture and Fisheries regulates the size and bag limits for barramundi and king threadfin. The below suggested sizes for catch and release form part of the Rockhampton Recreational Fishing VCOP.

Barramundi

Minimum legal size: 580mm
 Keep zone: 580mm - 1000mm
 Catch & release zone: 1000mm+
 Maximum legal size: 1200mm

King Threadfin

Minimum legal size: 650mm
 Keep zone: 650mm - 1000mm
 Catch & release zone: 1000mm+

WHAT CAN YOU CATCH?

BARRAMUNDI KING THREADFIN GRUNTER CRABBING

ROCKHAMPTON REGION

ROCKHAMPTON REGION

The estuary side of the Fitzroy River (Tunuba) is 45km, with plenty of fishing opportunities to be found. There are plenty of locations to put in your boat or bag a monster from the bank. With access from both the north and south side of Rockhampton, the freshwater side of the river is mostly sheltered and is perfect for fishing either with powered or unpowered vessels. In the dry season, freshwater lagoons offer great access to barramundi fishing.

KNOW WHAT THE LOCALS KNOW

The Neville Hewitt Bridge (known as the 'new bridge') is an excellent fishing spot, around the bridges, rock bars and structures. Barramundi and king threadfin are often found in these areas.

Downriver fishing spots include the Cut Through and Devil's Elbow. The Cut Through is a great fishing area, with numerous snags and fish holding structures. Devil's Elbow (the elbow bend just as you head downstream from the Rockhampton CBD) is the first of the deep water bends in the river and features rock piles and old gum trees that break the water flow. This provides the perfect habitat for both king threadfin and barra. When fishing for these types of fish, look for the cleanest water possible as this will give the fish the best chance of seeing your lure.

The most popular bait for barramundi and king threadfin are prawns, which can be found in the Fitzroy River from the town reach all the way to the mouth. Cast nets from the boat are the preferred method to catch them. If you are using cast nets, take extreme care as there are crocodiles in our river system.

You can access Casuarina Creek via the hole in the wall, this is a gap in the rock wall just north of Thompson Point. Alternatively you can come in from the Port Alma side, which is unique in that it runs in from both ends. Take care when using the hole in the rock wall as it is narrow and the tide runs fast. If in doubt, use the next creek along to the south, which also links to Casuarina, and is good country for mud crabbing.

PORT ALMA REGION

PORT ALMA REGION

Port Alma is 60km south of Rockhampton and is right on the south end of the Fitzroy Delta, a massive estuary system right in the middle of the Rockhampton region. Port Alma is the main access point for Casuarina Creek, Inkerman Creek, Raglan Creek, Connors Creek, the Narrows, the northern point of Curtis Island and Yellow Patch. Port Alma is also a setting-off point for offshore fishing, as well as a location for fly fishing.

KNOW WHAT THE LOCALS KNOW

Offshore access to the southern part of Keppel Bay is available for smaller vessels via the Port Alma boat ramp. In Keppel Bay, you can bottom bash for species like coral trout, sweetlip and red emperor, or troll for species like spanish mackerel, cobia, long tailed tuna or large and small mouth nannygai.

Raglan Creek adjoins Port Alma and runs between Curtis Island and the mainland. This is the creek to fish for barramundi, thanks to the mangroves and tidal habitats.

Casuarina Creek is larger in size and feeds directly back into the Fitzroy River – it's a great spot for king threadfin.

Port Alma Mouth is your hotspot for blue threadfin and large black jew fish.

1 Boat Ramp

MOUNT MORGAN REGION

MOUNT MORGAN

The Mount Morgan No. 7 Dam is 2km from the centre of Mount Morgan, roughly 45kms south-west of Rockhampton on the Burnett Highway. The No. 7 Dam is a great spot for family fishing, with barbecues, a playground and wide-open spaces for the kids to run. The Dam has a speed restriction on boats, so it's also a great kayak fishing option.

THE TROPIC OF CAPRICORN

Image: Capricorn Spire

The Tropic of Capricorn is the line that represents the southern most point in the world where the sun moves directly overhead. It is the circle of latitude that marks the December (or southern) solstice.

It delineates the temperate climate zone to the south and the Tropic zone to the north. Rockhampton lies just north of the Tropic of Capricorn.

Visit the Spire, a marker that acts as a sundial, one of the only locations in the world that allows you to observe how the earth moves around the sun and 'see' the extent of difference in length of shadows during mid-winter and mid-summer.

Fun fact: The Tropic of Capricorn is currently drifting northward at a rate of almost half an arc second of latitude, or 15 metres, per year!
